

How can you help?

We will meet once per month to learn and discuss together, and to find new ways to promote the rights of young people and to create new exciting tools.

Interested?

Please, send us a message/email or call us...
Recruitment is now open!

Children First

Addressing Gender Based Violence
from the bottom-up

The Project

Gender-based violence is a widespread phenomenon in all areas of society. Children and young people are no strangers to this type of violence, and policy and literature on the issue are slowly growing.

However, “dating violence” amongst children and teenagers remains largely under-researched and untackled.

The “Children First” project partners wish to prevent and tackle dating violence amongst children and young people.

We are 6 organisations and associations working in the UK, Greece, Cyprus, Lithuania and Italy that believe that children and young people should always come first.

We need YOUR help!

We would like to hear your views and to receive your guidance. You know more than you think you do about this. Do you want to become a member of our Advisory Board? Do you want to meet young people who, like you, wish to make a difference?

Are you tired of hearing or reading that boys should be strong and should not cry, that girls are delicate and fragile?

Be our advisor!

What we offer:

You will learn how to interview people and how to create and implement an awareness-raising campaign

You will have your voice heard

You will learn all there is to know about gender-based violence and gender stereotypes

You will inspire the creation of an online game to help combat dating violence

You will talk and exchange ideas with young people from 5 European countries
